

A Willow Brook Friday!

Welcome to Friday! After last week's rains, the scorching temperatures have certainly provided a bit of contrast!

Assembly

Start your morning with the Friday assembly. There's lots to hear and lots to talk about...which is funny because it's about not needing words!

Reading

If you have access to the internet, do a little research on Rosa Parks or Martin Luther King Junior. If you've never heard of the Baltic Chain, that's an interesting discovery too.

In the Black Lives Matter section of the site you'll find our firm favourite, 'Something Inside So Strong'. Sing it with volume!

You could also replay our assembly song, 'Sing' by Gary Barlow on Sing Up or You Tube and really find your voice!

10.30

Disappointing crumpets from Tesco last Friday... I have a feeling that chocolate brownies will be a more popular coffee break accompaniment this morning...

My World

Memories

Unless you are an avid diary writer, you will hold so many of your memories in pictures. You might not remember people's words but will have things that make you feel warm or happy or even sad. What are your earliest memories? What do you remember about your first days at school? About members of your family? About life before lockdown? Write and draw what you see when you close your eyes and remember.

1.30pm Art

Recreate a day from the past week in pictures. It can be a collage or a cartoon strip, an image of a place or a person you want to remember. Do it in colour or as a simple pencil drawing....

When you have finished it, write the date on the back and put it away somewhere safe. One day you will have forgotten the detail of the last week in June 2020 and it will be your memory.

3.30pm

Enjoy your Friday night and your weekend. I hope you are starting to see the precious members of your family and the friends you have missed since March.

John Lewis still seems a million miles away!
