

Task 1Converting nouns or adjectives to verbs

You can change nouns and adjectives into verbs by adding the suffixes -ate, -ise, -en and -ify.

Here are some examples: author becomes authorise assassin becomes assassinate

dark becomes darken

class becomes classify

Remember: The usual spelling rules apply for words ending in æyæ (change to æiæ before adding the ending), words ending in æeæ (remove the æeæ before adding the ending) and words ending with a short vowel sound (double the consonant before adding the ending).

Sort these words into the right boxes (note: some words may fit into more than one box):

advert captive pure computer fright equal personal active author real glory hard scandal intense light liquid hospital false sad pressure motive terror simple straight note central material legal

-ate	-ise	-en	-ify

A Picture Says a Thousand Words

Task 2

An image says a thousand words, in particular the picture on the previous page.

What can you see?

What can you hear?

What can you smell?

What can you feel?

What questions do you have about this picture?

Task 3

Take some time to look at the picture and let your imagination takeover!

Consider and write notes about...

What happened before?

What happens next?

Can you draw a story-map for the beginning, middle and end?

Task 4

Draw a picture that encapsulates the ending of your story. Try to tell the ending with the images you choose, try to portray the atmosphere with the colours and movement. Take inspiration from the original picture.
