When Mr Jones was little he had a friend called Adam. Adam didn't like eating fruit or vegetables at all. In fact he only ate chocolate doughnuts. His mum and dad fed him doughnuts every day for Breakfast, lunch and dinner. Adam didn't get the vitamins that he needed so he started to feel ill. He cried and cried but his tears were made of chocolate doughnuts too. Mr Jones hasn't seen Adam for many years now. Some people say Adam actually turned into a giant doughnut. Do you think this could be a true story
