I can proofread a passage

When Mr Jones was a little boy he went on a school trip to visit the Houses of Parliament in London. The bus didn't park very near so Mr Jones walked the rest of the way. He thought his friend Big Ben but Adam was too busy eating doughnuts to even notice. Mr Jones was so happy that he skipped all the way to the door. He shook hands with lots of ministers because nobody had ever heard of Covid 19 back then. He even got to see Boris Johnson. Mr Jones asked his teacher if Boris would ever be Prime Minister.

"Don't be silly!" said his teacher.
