Art: Origami Master

In art, the children in school are continuing with their animal paintings from last week. Now I know that some children have already completed their animal paintings and would love something new. So as an extra challenge for anyone who needs it, I would love you all to have a go at creating some origami animals.

Here is a website full of fantastic origami animals. Maybe you would like to do a simple frog or really challenge yourself to make a turtle. Have a go and don't get too upset if you don't get it right the first time. Practise makes perfect.
