

I can tell the time.

We have all worked really hard at telling the time. It can be a really difficult thing to learn but it is so important. Today, I want to give you a challenge to practice reading the time as much as possible. Using the clock to help you remember when its quarter past and quarter to.

